VOLUME IV.

VASHON, KING COUNTY, WASHINGTON, THURSDAY, APRIL 1, 1920.

BURTON

Miss Una Stewart, who has been quite ill for over a week, is reported improving.

Mrs. Cora Mollstad has sold her property to Mr. Alex Smith. Mrs. Mollstad plans to remain in Burton through the summer.

Mrs. W. C. Grover of Bellingham is at her Burton home this week, getting the place ready to turn over to Mrs. L. Sanderson, who has leased it.

Miss Helen Leathers surprised her folks with a week end visit. She returned to her school in Oregon on Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Cat's has moved into the Auberg bungalow, which has just been vacated by Mr. F. C. Adams, who has rented the Corbet place.

Mr. Erol Brown returned Saturday from Sitka, Alaska, where he went in December to take charge of the government experiment station. He will remain in Burton for the present.

The Missionary Society was entertained on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. C. Meredith. The next meeting will be held on April 29th at the Baptist church—an open meeting—W. C. T. U. speaker.

The new school board organized at their first meeting on Monday evening. W. C. Whitfield was elected chairman and Frank Enoch's clerk. Another meeting will be held soon to decide on the teachers for the coming year.

Easter vacation has brought a crowd of young people to the beach, regardless of the cold wave on land and sea. Some of the strollers remind us that "In the Spring a Young Man's Fancy"—you know the rest.

Rev. Thorn, who supplied the pulpit of the Baptist church here for some months, was over the week end packing and shipping his household goods back to Seattle, where his work with the Red Cross will prevent his taking a charge outside of the city.

Easter vacation in the Tacoma schools has given our island teachers a little relaxation, which they are enjoying in various ways. Among those at their Burton homes are Miss Singnie Carlson, the Misses Selma and Heley Nelson, Miss Elizabeth Campbell and Miss Alice Fraser.

Mr. N. A. Springer of Aberdeen, working at the Dockton shipyard, has had his second accident within two weeks, the last one caused by a heavy timber falling across his left foot and breaking the bones in several toes. He is putting in his "laid by" time making violins. If you want to see perfect workmanship, call on this genius, who has rooms over the Burton post office.

News has just reached us of the purchase of the McNair place by Mr. L. Turnbull of Dockton, who will soon take possession. We are glad for these new neighbors, and hope Mrs. McNair will decide on a new home in Burton, though we are fearful she will get the city fever, as we heard she spent two days in Tacoma this week.

Have you read the Union J. "Clatter"? It is a creditable little sheet, published last week at Burton High, with Prof. Milton Prichard as chief editor and manager, supported by assistants from the Senior, Junior, Sophomore and Freshmen classes. Read how the White Banner was won, and when you see it, it will be an inspiration.

to accomplish things that seem impossible. Other matters of interest are published in the "Chatter"—they even dared to tackle the subject of "Paved Roads." The advertising columns were liberally patronized by the leading merchants, bank, garage, etc., on the island.

The "Vashon Athletic Club" was organized March 29th, with Frank Barfield as president and Harry Enoch's as Sec. Treasurer. The meetings and athletics will be held at the College gym. Boxing contests—later base ball—and other sports will have their sway. The club invites members from all parts of the Islands.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Parkes went to Victoria Saturday to meet Mrs. C. H. Foster, who arrived from China on Monday. Mrs. Foster will remain in Burton about ten days before leaving for the Atlantic coast, where part of her family are. Dr. Foster expects to be home in June or July. Mrs. Foster's many friends are glad to greet her again and find her looking so well.

BURTON HIGH SCHOOL

Mrs. Milton Prichard has been indisposed this week.

Invitations are out for a birthday party honoring Miss Hazel Potter. The party is being given by Mrs. C. B. Potter at her home in Burton, on Thursday afternoon of this week.

Several former students of Union J. have taken advantage of spring vacation week to visit our school and renew old acquaintanceships.

Mr. Waldron of Tacoma was a visitor at school on Monday. Mr. Prichard has arranged with him for a moving picture performance to be given on Friday evening of this week in the high school auditorium. This promises to be an entertainment both instructive and entertaining.

One of the pleasant school affairs of last week was a beach party held on Wednesday evening at Picnic Point. The pupils were chaperoned by Miss Tegland, and Miss Wainwright. The greater part of the student body was in attendance. One of the attractive features of the evening was a luncheon, enjoyed in the warmth of a huge bonfire.

WILL PAVE HIGHWAY

Commissioners Decide to Build Concrete Road from Heights to Center

BIDS WILL BE CALLED FOR ON COMPLETION OF PRELIMINARY SURVEY

The most important road project of the year was launched Tuesday when the County Commissioners decided to build a concrete highway, 16 feet in width, for five and one-half miles on Vashon Island. Although an accurate estimate cannot be made until the survey is completed, it is believed that the improvement will cost about $35,000 per mile.

Residents had petitioned for a road twice the length, but opposition of property owners at the south end induced the commissioners to cut the road in half. As agreed on it will start at the north end ferry landing, Vashon Heights, and go south to Center. C. E. Morford, principal assistant to the county engineer, is in charge of the survey and plans.

The cost of the new highway will be borne on a plan similar to local improvement districts. Abutting property owners, defined as any holding land for two miles on either side of the road, will pay 25 per cent. Another 25 per cent will be assessed against the entire island as a road district, and the remaining fifty per cent will be taken from the general county taxes.

A public hearing on the matter was held by the Commissioners a week ago. At Tuesday's meeting they voted unanimously to give the petitioners one-half of their proposed highway at this time. Bids will be called for as soon as County Engineer Samuel J. Humes has completed the preliminary work.—Seattle P.-I.

COVE

Mr. J. Tronas was in Seattle on business Thursday.

Mr. A. H. Johnson was consulting a doctor in the city last Monday. The flu seems to stick by him. No appetite.

The Hanson brothers have their new bungalow all enclosed, roof on. Looks very neat. Expects to use beaver board for interior work.

Mr. Joe Raisbeck went over to the city Monday to see what the commissioners were going to do about our new highway improvement.

We understand that Mr. Phillip French is quite sick. Mrs. French says the flu couldn't chase fast enough to catch her; and further, she can't afford to be sick.

It is with regret we chronicle the misfortune of Mr. O. Severson in the loss of his new henhouse and 1000 baby chicks by fire last Thursday night. The fire started from the brooder stove.

Mr. W. V. Crozier is feeling pretty good over the sale of a young veal last week. It weighed 144 pound at seven weeks old, and netted him $37 in cash. Who can beat it?

The M. E. church folks are having the interior of the church nicely papered. Mr. Abe Abrams of Vashon Heights is doing the work. Getting ready for Easter entertainment.

Mrs. Delaney, Mrs. D. Dunn's mother, who has been very seriously ill, while not entirely well, is able to be up once more. Trust the improvement goes on.

Mr. G. Holland is making quite extensive improvements in the way of piping water to the house from the spring above it. Some 700 feet already laid. When finished he will have things very handy for Mrs. Holland.

There was a family gathering a week ago at Grandma Abrams. Capt. H. Anderson and family

Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Ramquist entertained at Sunday dinner Mr. and Mrs. Paull and children, Mr. Ramquist's brother, also Mr. and Mrs. Gleason and children. Ed enjoys a visit from his brother, he says, as he is about as jolly as himself (H. there, taffy). After a delightful afternoon, both families motored back to Seattle in their car.

Mr. Martin Tjomsland seems to be quite proud of his success in raising that bunch of 1000 baby chicks he got from the Butcher Hatchery. Lost only 92. They are nicely feathered, not a drooping winged one among them. Now three weeks old. Is getting another 1000 lot from the Louis Beall plant.

There is lots doing on the State ten ranch. Mr. Johnson is superintending the planting of 15,000 strawberry plants. Frank Elden is busy seeding peas with a fine drill, like they used back in the Red River valley in Dakota. Seen a dozen of them strung one after the other on those level fields seeding wheat.

motored down in a brand new Grant Six from Bellingham. Mr. H. Brevik and family, Mr. Sam Benson and family, all sons-in-law, and six grandchildren, Mrs. Capt. Christ Anderson (nee Ruth Abrams), also Arnold Wang and Charleston, a nephew.

BEE NOTES

With a good queen and under favorable conditions, with plenty of stores and protection, a colony of bees can increase its working force from 15,000 to 75,000 in about two months. The wax moth, or bee moth, never kills a strong colony. The colony must first be weakened by some other cause. Find out what the trouble is. It may be disease or the loss of the queen. Queen bees should be introduced so they will be laying at least six weeks before the honey flow starts. They should also be laying at least six weeks before the average time for brood rearing to stop in the fall.

Mrs. Plancher had been a resident of Dockton for fifteen years. She was 52 years of age. SEATTLE

Now that the whole nation has gone dry, we hope the thermometer will take a pledge not to take another drop this season.

It hasn't been so very long since cheap excursions were run all over the country, and they had the right of way over freight. As between a freight train and an excursion train, it certainly seems that common sense would rule in favor of the former. Today railroad men are realizing this and excursions, while growing fewer, will give way to freight trains, that the necessities of life may be handled more rapidly and, as a result, more cheaply.

We've noticed that the fellow who is too busy to reflect on being nervous and sickly is seldom heard mentioning his ailments.

Fifty dollars for a bushel of potatoes is what Miss Esther Truoninen, a potato club girl of Woodland, this state, received recently. The Potato Growers' Association of Clarke county offered a prize of fifty dollars for the best bushel of certified potatoes raised in the county. The contest was judged by Mr. Larson of the Portland Seed Co., who pronounced the potatoes raised by Miss Truoninen the best he had seen this year.

As a rule a planted potato is worth more than a half interest in a gold mine.

Jim Hill, who knew a thing or two, once said: "If you wish to know whether you will be a success or a failure in life, there is a simple, infallible test. Can you save money? If you can, you win. If not, you fail." All the down-and-outers know Hill was right.

What keeps a few Island residents so far behind is they spend too much of their time trying to "get even" with somebody.

There are two ways to learn economic law. One way is to spend and the other is to save. If you spend you will find the law against you, but if you save you will find it in your favor.

It begins to look as though it's going to be late in the summer before anyone finds out "for sure" whether Herbert Hoover is a Republican or a Democrat. Now the news comes that Herbert has lined up as an honest-to-goodness Republican.

A college professor of Columbus, Ohio, is credited with making the statement that he is sure the farmers of this country are progressing at a faster rate than ever before. He said he based this statement on the fact that today quite a few of the farmers who write to inquire about the college do so on their own letterheads, and the letters are mailed in printed envelopes that will insure the letter being returned to the writer in case it is undelivered. And this is something for farmers on the Island to think about. If a printed letterhead bearing the name of your farm and perhaps the products of which you make a specialty enumerated upon it makes an impression upon a college professor, is it not reasonable to say that it would put you and your business in a favorable light with the men to whom you want to sell something? Farming is a business and a big business. Every farmer writes letters, and the printed letterhead stamps him as a progressive business man. If printed stationery did not pay, millions of business men would have quit using it long ago. The News-Record office is equipped to handle in a satisfactory manner YOUR printing orders.

Canadian dries are moving to secure prohibition of inter-provincial liquor shipments. Referendums will be invoked to accomplish this end. They hope for bone-dry prohibition within the next few months.

Somehow or other the things that really count in life seem to be unexpectable. For instance, thrift and the government's thrift movement represented in the sales of Thrift and War Savings Stamps and Treasury Savings Certificates.

The Bonniest Bonnet

by Dixie Wolcott

There's the bonny Scotsman's bonnet
That he wears with greatest pride,
With a jaunty silver thistle
Fastened gaily at the side.
There's the little pink sunbonnet
Which the country lassie wears;
And the boudoir's frilled creation
That "My Lady" dons upstairs.
And stored within our attic
In a rosewood chest of yore,
Is the fetching wedding bonnet
That my great-grandmother wore.
There's a wreath of posies on it,
And a tiny spray within—
And some cherry-colored ribbons
That were tied beneath her chin.
But the hat most chic and charming
That has ever come my way
Is that one that Dorothea
Wore to church on Easter day.
I can't tell the shape or color,
I could never guess its worth—
But beneath it glowed the beauty
Of the sweetest face on earth!

HAILED GODDESS OF SPRING

Heathen Saxons Had Their Festival When They Worshipped Eostre, Before Dawn of Christianity.

In ancient times the Saxons were worshippers of the heathen goddess Eostre whose festival fell in the spring. The feast of the Resurrection falling in the spring also, the name was transformed to the Christian feast which, in the Saxon church, was regarded as the queen of festivals. It was termed the Day of Light, and from midnight of Easter eve until daylight the churches were brilliantly illuminated and decorated. On Easter morning the people flocked to the elaborate service, and especially to witness the symbolic resurrection from the sepulcher. This was represented by the priest's elevating in full view of the people the supposed body of the risen Christ.

In connection with the celebration in the churches the people indulged in feasting and rejoicing in their own homes. This was but a natural reaction from the rigorous fast of Lent imposed by the church, during which no meat whatever was eaten and on Good Friday no food at all was permitted.

The custom of using eggs is supposed to have originated with the ancient Greeks and Romans, who colored them to use in their pagan festival. Marvellous stories may be found of bewitched eggs, said to be able to fly straight toward the yule, and one famous variety was said to have been laid by a rabbit. The story of the origin of the Easter egg seems to be a mixture of the Christian and Pagan legends, and is as follows:

There fell from the heavens, long, long ago, an egg of immense size; it rested on the Euphrates, when a dove descended and hatched it, and out of it arose a splendid beauty of Venus.

Song of Easter.

Sing that the winter is over,
Sing for the coming of spring,
For the showers and flowers
and beautiful hours,
And the flash of the rabbit's wing.
Sing for the gladness of Easter,
Lift up your voices and sing.
—Selected.

HOLY WEEK IN JERUSALEM

Particularly Impressive Are the Easter Services in the Church of the Holy Sepulcher.

An interesting account of Holy Week in Jerusalem was written some years ago by Robert Heber, author of "The Garden of Allah," for the Century Magazine. He described the ceremonies in the Church of the Holy Sepulcher.

"My first impression in the church," he says, "was that I had suddenly come into a barbaric castle of magic connected with innumerable caves of Aladdin. About me were caves lined with silver and gold and immense jewels unknown to me; caves across which miraculous spiders had spun webs of silver and gold. Stars gleamed in them; footsteps echoed, voices murmured, eery lights twinkled. Marvellous fabrics shone softly among great pictures, carved wood, marble, bronzes and gilded ironwork."

And in the courtyard—a roar of voices went up. The pavement echoed with the senseless tramping of feet and the grumbling of muskets. The walls flung back exclamations and cries; the whining and shrieking of beggars, the loud calling of soldiers determined to compel attention to their wares, the vehement discussions of those that bought, and—I had almost said the silence of the Russian pilgrims. For mystic Russia was there, mute at the threshold of Calvary.

He describes the "Miracle of the Holy Fire"—the church packed with thousands eager to light their candles at the fire sent down from heaven once a year, according to the teachings of the Greek church, to the priests within the marble sanctuary, which is supposed to mark the sepulcher.

"And then, at the wonderful midnight mass on the eve of Easter . . . came the Easter morning ceremony in the court of the Holy Sepulcher. Ah, how gentle, how tender, how touching it was, that simple greeting of the wonderful morning after the delirium and frenzy of the holy fire. All hearts were excited to frenzy by the holy fire. The Easter morning procession moved hundreds to tears, held them tensely silent. Instead of the blue dome spangled with artificial stars, a faint blue sky was over our heads. Instead of the glare of the torches the sunbeams fell mildly upon us. Instead of the yelling multitudes we heard the sound of the wonderful bells—bells never to be forgotten. They sounded like strange, emotional voices of living things, proclaiming a great, a superb truth. Down below me I saw tears streaming over the seamed faces of many Russians as they signed themselves, kissed one another, told one another, 'Christ is risen.'"

Easter Day.

It is a beautiful conception, the day and its significance. Our finite minds are accustomed to conceive of death as the end; we are often prone to step there and not go beyond the resurrection. The physical world is emblematic of the change that must ever take place before the springing up of new life. So with the life of the spirit. He that loseth his life shall find it. Something of this thought is in the mind of him who is to find the real meaning of Easter. It is the beginning of a new year, not in the formal calendar of days and months, but of the world of nature which is often all the world of reality to us. The season speaks of abundance of life with all its wonderful hopes and possibilities. To the Christian world Easter is the apotheosis of everything that is beautiful and awe-inspiring. It means the emergence of the spiritual, the message to humanity that the good and true and beautiful can never die. It is the inspiration of the poet, the essence of hope to the man of faith.

Oldest Christian Festival.

Easter is the oldest festival of the Christian church. The celebration of it is really continued from Sunday to Sunday, and will be till at last the dawn of the Eternal Sabbath breaks, and the everlasting Easter morning shall rise on a new heaven and a new earth. The Resurrection was an announcement of the greatest victory which has ever been won, a victory over bondage and over-death. Many victories have been celebrated since, but none can compare with this; though many have been the result of it.

The Legend of Easter Eggs

Trinity bells with their hollow lullaby
And their vibrant lips and their brazen tongues,
Over the roofs of the city pour
Their Easter music with joyous roar,
Till the soaring notes to the Sun are rolled
As he swings along in his path of gold.

"Dearest papa," says my boy to me,
As he merrily climbs on his mother's knee,
"Why are these eggs that you see so hold
Colored so finely with blue and gold?
And what is the wonderful bird that lays
Such beautiful eggs upon Easter days?"

Tenderly shine the April skies,
Like laughter and tears in my child's blue eyes,
And every face in the street is gay—
Why cloud this youngster's by saying nay?
So I endue my brains for the tale he begs,
And tell him this story of Easter eggs:

You have heard, my boy, of the Man who died,
Crowned with keen thorns and crucified,
And how Joseph the wealthy—whom God reward!
Cared for the corpse of his martyred Lord,
And piously tumbled it within the rock,
And closed the gate with a mighty block.

Now, close by the tomb a fair tree grew,
With pendulous leaves and blossoms of blue,
And deep in the green tree's shadowy breast
A beautiful singing bird sat on her nest,
Which was bordered with mosses like malachite,
And held four eggs of an ivory white.

Now, when the bird from her dim recess
Beheld the Lord in His burial dress,
And looked on the heavenly face so pale,
And the dear hands pierced with the cruel nail,
Her heart nigh broke with a sudden pang,
And out of the depth of her sorrow she sang.

All night long till the moon was up
She sat and sang in her moss-wreathed cup,
A song of sorrow as wild and shrill
As the homeless wind when it roams the hill,
So full of tears, so loud and long,
That the grief of the world seemed turned to song.

But soon there came through the weeping night
A glittering Angel clothed in white,
And he rolled the stone from the tomb away,
Where the Lord of the earth and the heavens lay,
And Christ arose in the cavern's gloom,
And in living lustre came from the tomb.

Now, the bird that sat in the heart of the tree
Beheld this celestial mystery,
And its heart was filled with a sweet delight,
And it poured a song on the throbbing night,
Notes climbing notes, till higher, higher,
They shot to Heaven like spears of fire.

When the glittering, white-robed Angel heard
The sorrowing song of the grieving bird,
And, after the jubilant psalm of mirth
That hailed Christ risen again on earth,
He said: "Sweet bird, be forever blest,
Thyself, thy eggs, and thy moss-wreathed nest!"

And ever, my child, since that blessed night,
When Death bowed down to the Lord of Light,
The eggs of that sweet bird change their hue,
And learn with red and gold and blue,
Rejoicing mankind in their simple way
Of the holy marvel of Easter Day.
—Elizabeth O'Brien.

Joy Supreme.

And, in the glory of the lilies, in the great joy of the glad morning, there should be no heart that any fate can rob of its serenity, no soul that the powers of evil can successfully assault.

EASTER'S AWAKENING.

Never yet was a springtime,
Late though lingered the snow,
That the sap stirred not at the whisper
Of the south wind, sweet and low,
Never yet was a springtime
When the buds forgot to blow.
Ever the wings of the summer
Are folded under the mold;
Life that has known no dying,
Is never, is never and to hold;
Till again, the burgeoning Easter!
The song of the green and the gold!
—Margaret E. Sangster.

Easteride, 1918.

"I saw many things,
I saw a man in France—a soldier—
—full kilted—full weary,
humping his leaden pack.
"I saw a woman with three bundles humping the children home.
"And the soldier took two of the children and he carried them five kilometers—and the sweet and the swelter that he went through carried him on that day very near to the Gates of God."

GLORIOUS LILIES OF EASTER

Beautiful Flowers Epitomize the Blossoming and Exquisite Beauty and Gladness of Spring.

Redolent and abounding lilies are seen everywhere. They are marching along the highways of hope; they are merged in the glory of the Easter morning; they are painted by the tints of the stained glass that falls through the cathedral windows; they are in the thought of all and in the words of many, in the sentiments and traditions of the day. There they are in great banks and piles about the altar steps, and where the sacred desk stands before the congregation. Lilies stand forth to the wonderful alle-gories that have been theirs—the lily-of-the-valley, whose sheen is more wonderful than the glory of the great Solomon—the annunciation lily, with its folded petals like the clasped hands of a virgin, the lily of the resurrection, with its star-flared petals that stand out with a show of the golden heart of hope; the calla lily, with its stately presence and exquisite perfume, the very essence of the esthetic sentiments of the day; the lily auratum, with its golden bands of faith, hope and of love; the tiger lily, that shows forth the passions of men held in check upon Easter day; the yellow garden lily that stands for the homely aspirations of men on the day of the blossoming and exquisite beauty of spring opening and of heart gladness!

Triumphant Christian Faith.

Easter marks the Resurrection day. To the man of deep faith it is the greatest day of all the year. The good clothes parade that crowds him out of his usual seat has no appeal for him. He is concerned with worship. He comes to the sacred meeting to contemplate the greatest of earth's miracles. There is much about it reason cannot compass. Every failure to solve the mystery drives him back to the faith that has never failed to bring comfort when cold reason suggested only perplexity. When tempted to doubt he remembers that a critical nation with antagonistic leaders tried to hush up the story when it was first reported. He remembers the dismal failure they made of it. Though contrary to all experience and knowledge great things have been brought to pass by faith in this miracle. Is it any wonder he sits in meditation and worships?

Awake to Spirit of Easter.

It is the tragedy of many a life that it weeps at an empty tomb. It thinks that there all its hopes are buried, all its possibilities of joy, all its future. How empty and joyless is the life that has not met the risen Christ! On the first Easter evening two disciples were walking down to Emmaus. Their hearts were sad, their lives were hopeless because they had lost their Lord, and they had no faith in certain rumors of a resurrection which had come to their ears. Jesus joined them on the way, but their eyes were hidden so they knew him not. May the Spirit open our hearts and eyes on Easter day to the glory and joy of the Risen Lord.—Exchange.

An Easter Carol

by Minna Irving

Awake! A shaft of heavenly fire
Has touched the cloud and tipped
the spire.
The frosty clod no more is cold,
The violet stirs beneath the mold,
For this is Easter morning!

Arise! The buds begin to swell,
From bush and brake and field and fell
A clear and joyous anthem floats
From scores of little feathered throats,
For this is Easter morning!

Behold! The soul of man today
Casts off the sepulcher of clay
And, crowned with lilies, mounts the skies
To walk with God in paradise,
For this is Easter morning!

SING GLADNESS AND PRAISE

Carols Have a Distinct and Beautiful Meaning When Rendered at the Easter Time.

It seems as if the Easteride was a particularly appropriate time for the caroling out of our joy. The spring has come, the birds are singing again after the long winter of ice and snow, and we mortals wake to joy again with them. Let us see how the people of ancient times observed Easter. "Carol," the word which we use in speaking of Easter music, means a song of praise, between a hymn and a ballad, a song which was used first to accompany a dance. One of the most beautiful of these old carols had its origin in the southwest part of France, and is called "The Carol of the Flowers." It runs thus:

Come with us, sweet flowers, and worship Christ the Lord;
Let your perfume hover round the Babe adored.

Modest violet, hiding in the grassy shade,
Thou canst say how humble He is made.

Lily fair, low bending in the sun's warm light,
Thou dost tell that He is pure as thou art white.

As thou, pansy, shinnest forth to bright array,
So doth He his majesty display.

As thou, rose, wide opening, do thy scent impart,
So His love expanding, draws each sinful heart.

Easter time seemed especially the season that the ancient people were moved to compose folk songs, which were not written down as music is written now, but which were sung from generation to generation of people. In this way they were kept alive, as surely as if they had been printed, or written on parchment, according to the custom in ancient days. These folk songs depicted scenes in the garden of Gethsemane where the Saviour walked, or of the women who went to the tomb, bearing precious spices, of their finding the empty tomb, of the white-robed angel, and of Mary, the virgin mother.

One of the most beautiful of all the songs which have been written of this event is Handel's "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth." This has been sung on Easter for many years, in churches.

Easter Over There.

To wasted fields far over there
Where long white lines of crosses are,
Shall sunshine come and showers;
And God will walk where crosses are,
And that lone land, denuded, bare,
Shall emerald be—a green parterre,
All radiant with flowers.—
—Rebecca Farnum McKay.

SWAN LONG A SACRED BIRD

Ancient Belief That the Valkyrs Had Power to Change Themselves Into Its Shape.

The swans that adorn our Easter carols were sacred birds in olden days and the Valkyrs, the beautiful virgins who conducted the fallen heroes to Valhalla, Wodan's paradise, possessed the power to change themselves into those white and graceful birds. The swan was an apple originally, consecrated to Freya, the highest of the goddesses. The custom of giving Easter eggs as a symbol of new awakening life is so ancient that we find it back as far as there is any written evidence and the merry Easter or meadow reminds us of the Easter plays that were held to celebrate the arrival of spring amongst almost all the Teutonic nations.

EGG ALWAYS EASTER FEATURE

Highly Decorated or Simply Colored, It Has Figured in All Celebrations of History.

In the early English days Easter eggs were highly colored and decorated with landscapes and elaborate inscriptions. While most of the old elaborate displays have fallen into disuse, the egg in some form yet remains a feature of Easter in modern times.

The Tyrolean peasants retain a very pretty custom of celebrating Easter, in which the egg figures prominently. On Easter eve bands of musicians traverse every valley, singing holiday hymns. Their picturesque hats are adorned with flowers. Crowds of children accompany them and at night carry torches of lighted pine wood. As they pass before each house the people come to the doors and put eggs into the baskets of the singers, while they themselves join in the chorus.

The Paschal lamb as an emblem was much used in the early Christian era, and is still a symbol of Easter in many of the Latin countries.

In Africa they even worship it, and no altar decoration is considered finished without a circle of eggs, while each private family boasts at least one sacred egg.

The "hare" legend, strange to say, is connected with the moon. There were all sorts of fancies with regard to the moon phases, from which time Easter is reckoned, and among some nations the hare is a type of the moon itself. The Hindu and Japan artists painted them across the moon's disk, while the Chinese represent them in the moon as pounding rice in a mortar. In many parts of the world today children watch eagerly for the "bunny" who hides its eggs so carefully for their finding on Easter morning.

DAY OF DAYS.

O Day more glorious than all days that shone
Since first dim, fruitless earth was bathed in light,
Now cross and tomb and sealed sepulchral stone
Are overcome by Love's eternal night,
O blessed Morn! O joyful Day of Days!
To thee we bring our sacrifice of praise.

NORTHERN BAPTISTS MASSING FORCES IN $100,000,000 DRIVE

Big Sum Asked in One Movement to Fulfill Five-Year Program—Personal Service of 2,000,000 Members to Be Used to Make Huge Pledges More Effective—Education to Be Feature of Great Activity, Both in U. S. and Abroad.

By LUPTON WILKINSON.

The 10,000 churches which constitute the Northern Baptist Convention are moving forward this spring in a program termed by their leaders one of the most significant unified advances a Christian body has ever made. Thirty-four state convention headquarters are teaming with activity and the entire strength of the denomination is marshalled, ready for a task whose size may well be called staggering.

It is now nine months since the assembled national delegates of the Northern Baptists met in Denver and after providing entirely new and modern church organization machinery set the face of 2,000,000 people toward a five year effort, necessitating expenditures that will total at least $100,000,000. The urgency of the world situation, viewed from the Christian standpoint and made clear in detail to the convention through a 150-page itemized survey of the world's needs, has worked like multiplying leaven. Thousands upon thousands of copies of that survey have been distributed in answer to individual written requests.

The denominational program is known officially as the New World Movement of Northern Baptists. It is defined as "an attempt to apply vigorously the principles of Christianity to the problems confronting the world." The shadow of many ills, the stresses and pain of humanity, struggling to give a new order birth after the cataclysm of war has swept away old standards and safeguards, are the basic urges behind the Baptist effort.

The churches involved, believing the call to service imperative and fated only to grow larger, have decided to pledge the entire $100,000,000 Baptist fund in one financial "drive" between April 21 and May 2. My purpose here is not to discuss the task involved in the raising of such a sum. The impetus of aid and co-operation from numerous other denominations working together in the Interchurch World Movement will aid the Baptists greatly in their money campaign, a larger one than any other denomination faces this spring.

What must interest the general public in considering the huge undertaking are some very practical questions. Through what channels does the church hope to effect the application of the Christian ideal and the Christian machinery toward a lessening of unrest? How clearly and wisely have the church leaders viewed the situation? Do they work with a seeing vision of the tremendous ground, physically and spiritually speaking, that they must cover? How definite and concrete are their plans?

No one who has read the report of the Field Survey Committee of the Northern Baptist Convention can reasonably doubt the earnestness with which the men behind the New World Movement are striving to be practical. The scope of the Americanization plans indicates the trend. Children in the Sunday schools will be asked to treat the children of the foreign-born as friends. Baptist women will be asked to cultivate friendship as individuals with foreign-born women. Missions will be established in mining, manufacturing and logging districts where the native proportion of the population is small.

Speaking of "future citizens," the report of the committee says:

"We cannot honestly preach to them and teach them national ideals if we are silent while they, because they are strangers, are being exploited. It is our Christian duty to assist in the bettering of factory conditions, standards of employment for women in industry, living conditions of foreigners and social, educational, civic and religious opportunities for the foreign-born."

From Czechoslovakia, from Japan, from the heart of Mohammedan Africa, observers have been writing in unanimous agreement that conditions abroad are even more unsettled than in America. The belief of the church that the Christian ideal is the one solution will make itself felt through an investment of practically $10,000,000 for new equipment in foreign mission fields. This will be in addition to normal operating expenses. Plans include the sending out of 228 new missionary families and 170 single women missionaries and the erection of 188 missionary residences, 241 missionary schools, 75 dormitories, 75 church buildings, 5 industrial schools and 19 hospitals.

In China, one of many mission fields, five new high schools for girls will be established. "An intelligent womanhood is absolutely necessary for the permanent regeneration and Christianization of the Orient," says the report which led to this plan's adoption.

One domestic trend of the New World Movement will be a steady hammering on the problem of ministers' salaries. The average salary of the 8,823 ordained Baptist ministers in the United States is $1.57 a day, or $583 a year. Only eight out of every hundred receive as much as $1,500 a year.

Many amusing and appealing letters have been received since it became known that a determined educational campaign to remedy this condition is under way. One letter from Peru, Ind., says:

"In my opinion the greatest financier of the times is not Frank Vanderlip or J. Pierpont Morgan. The wife of the average minister has all of the great financiers of the country beaten to a standstill. If the same degree of efficient management as has prevailed in the ministerial household could be applied to our industrial and political institutions we could successfully compete in the markets of the world and come off victors."

In none of the welfare features of the Baptist program will the evangelistic note be subordinated. Dr. J. Y. Aitchison, director of the General Board of Promotion of the Northern Baptist Convention, has summed up as follows the keynote spirit of the effort:

"It is always necessary to remember that neither money nor buildings nor additional workers serve to express the terms of the New World Movement. It is not a campaign. It is the advance of an ideal. The raising of the money and the spending of the money are incidental to the supreme task of offering Christianity like a healing bandage to the wounds of the world."

"We are going forward on the theory that the denomination or the church or the man who hangs back now, is what President Roosevelt would have called a 'pussy-footer.' Where Christianity dominates, there cannot be lust and greed and hate. Certainly there cannot be Bolshevism."

We are better equipped than ever to do your hauling, having installed a new International truck.

MARNE MEMORIAL POSTER

JUST as the school children of France gave for their country's gift to the United States—the Statue of Liberty—so will American school children contribute "one cent and upward" for "America's Gift to France," a monumental statue by Frederick MacMonnies, the noted American sculptor. Mr. MacMonnies is contributing his services toward the monument which, it is estimated, will cost $250,000.

The poster shown herewith, is by Albert Sterner, noted American portrait painter. It typifies the tribute which this country will pay to the French through the Marne monument. The poster will be displayed in cities, towns, and villages, and will designate many of the places where contributions may be made during the week of March 22—a free-will offering, in which numbers of contributors, rather than size of contributions, will be sought from school children and others.

Contributions are now being received at National Headquarters, 150 Nassau street, New York, by Charles H. Sabin, president of one of New York's largest trust companies, who is treasurer of the fund.

The memorial will be erected at Meaux, on the Marne, and will rival in size and grandeur of design the Statue of Liberty.

MANY ARE KILLED IN MID-WEST TORNADO

Thousands Rendered Homeless and Millions in Property Destroyed.

Chicago.—Reports from the states in the middle west which were tornado-swept Sunday indicate over 100 persons lost their lives, while thousands were rendered homeless and millions of dollars worth of damage done.

Chicago and suburbs show great loss of life—twenty-nine persons being killed, with the greatest loss at Melrose Park.

Ohio reports twenty-four known dead. It is thought when the rural districts are heard from this figure will be increased. Indiana reported seventeen known dead and Michigan reported five. Wisconsin and Missouri each reported one person killed.

Apparently there were three distinct storms, one driving northward into Illinois and dying out on the shores of Lake Michigan, just north of Chicago; one striking in Georgia and Alabama and another sweeping through Indiana and passing into Ohio and Michigan.

The twisters which swept through Michigan and Ohio and Indiana apparently were distinct from the Illinois storm. In each instance, however, it was the same tale—wrecked houses, prostration of wire communication and a death list.

While northeastern Illinois sustained the principal damage, the tornado, in its freakish career, swept several Indiana towns, causing the death of one man and the injury of several persons in St. Louis, and killing Mrs. Louisa Brown at East Troy, Wis.

A dozen or more Michigan cities were cut off from the rest of the world, and it was reported they were in the path of the storm which swept northward across the state from Lake Michigan. The storm was said to have been particularly severe in the vicinity of Kalamazoo, Battle Creek, LaSage, Bay City and Saginaw.

Atlanta reported that the death list in Georgia and Alabama was at least 36.

STORM DEVASTATES ELGIN

Brunt of a Tornado Falls on Illinois Town.

Elgin, Ill.—With eight known dead, 100 or more injured and property loss that may exceed $4,000,000, Elgin was paralyzed as a result of a tornado that swept over this town at noon Sunday.

The storm, which swept a path 200 yards wide across the heart of the city, took its greatest toll of life at the Congregational and Baptist churches where four women were killed and dozens injured.

The storm struck Elgin from the southwest during a torrential down-pour of rain. The tornado was followed by a terrific hail storm lasting 15 minutes.

Towns which felt the full effect of the storm include Wagonada, McHenry, Woodstock, Algonquin and Marengo, Ill. Dundee is said to have been passed over by the storm, but damage in the surrounding farming country was heavy. Scores of horses and cattle were killed.

Idaho Wheat Stores Big

Boise, Idaho.—Idaho has in wheat reserve—unsold wheat from the 1919 crop—a total of 2,618,760 bushels, or 14 per cent of the crop. This fact is brought out in a statement on survey of grains in the state by Julius H. Jacobson, Idaho field agent of the government crop reporting service.

The other grains on hand are: oats, 1,925,000 bushels; barley, 470,000 bushels; corn, $1,000 bushels. This agent says that the value of Idaho farm land is increasing rapidly each year, the average value per acre being $41.63.

Twenty Dead at Toledo.

Toledo, O.—Casualties in the storm which swept Toledo and the surrounding district Sunday afternoon numbered twenty killed and hundreds injured.

Decorate Roosevelt and General Hines. Washington.—Award of distinguished service crosses to Major General John L. Hines and Lieutenant Colonel Theodore Roosevelt was announced at the war department.

BOLSHEVİK DRIVE ON POLES FAILS

Soviet Attacks on 600-Mile Front Reported to Be Weakening.

Warsaw.—Polish armored trains fought pitched battles against the bolshevik monitors and other fighting craft on the Pripet river during the bolshevik thrust which was designed to gain control of additional links of the railroad extending from Homel to Kalenkowicz and Mowl.

The bolshevik drive has been unsuccessful, according to a communication issued here. The communication announces that the Polish military authorities after eight days of fighting at various points on the 600 kilometer front, see signs of weakness in the long-planned spring drive of the bolsheviks, which was designed to break the hold of the Poles upon the entire front.

The communication also reports severe fighting in the region of Olenak and to the south along the Slutch river, with both sides using artillery extensively.

On the Podolian front there is fighting along the railroad from Ploskirow to Zloczynka, the bolsheviks having attacked. They were driven back a few kilometers in a northeasterly direction, however. The Poles have announced that several of the bolshevik formations were annihilated. During the recent fighting in the swampy country near Mozir, the bolsheviks used long-range guns, the newspapers said, arousing the local population, which took up arms and aided the Poles, defending the railroads and the countryside.

IRISH THREATENED BY REIGN OF TERROR

Dublin.—Ireland is believed to be the scene of a deadly vendetta.

Sinn Fein leaders said a reign of terror had been declared by extremists of their own ranks on one hand and sympathizers of the government, police and military authorities on the other.

The murder of James McCarthy, Sinn Fein leader at Thurles, was seen as the latest expression of the vendetta. McCarthy was shot and killed at 10:30 a. m. by a band of armed men who broke into his bedroom. Sinn Feiners said he was murdered in cold blood without opportunity to defend himself.

Unusual precautions have been taken to protect the lives of all government officials. The government feared early efforts at retaliation by the Irish nationalist radicals who have asserted openly that the deaths of Sinn Fein members will not go unavenged.

ALLIES REFUSE REQUEST

Ebert Cannot Send Men into the Rhine District.

Paris.—The allies have refused Germany's permission to send troops into the Rhine districts to restore order there. It was reported. The allied decision followed Germany's refusal to allow entente forces to occupy the cities of Frankfurt and Darmstadt as a guarantee that any troops sent into the Ruhr district to down communist forces there would be withdrawn as soon as order was restored.

Absolute confirmation of the entrance of regular German army troops into the Ruhr district, on the edge of the allied zone of occupation, without any permission from the allies, has been received by the French foreign office. The French say they can find no excuse whatever for the sending of troops into this section.

German Government Will Protect

Berlin.—Energetic measures to restore order and to protect the German people from "illegal acts" will be taken by the government against communist forces operating in the Ruhr region, said a manifesto issued by the government. The news from the Ruhr industrial district, the Rhineland in general, and from Westphalia, permits the conclusion that order will be gradually restored in those regions, where rebellious forces of workingmen have been operating.

Woman's Fall Over Cliff Fatal.

Portland, Ore.—Mrs. Elsie Pollock, of Yreka, Cal., plunged to her death down a fifty-foot canyon wall at Shepard's Dell Sunday. As she stood on the brink of the rocky embankment to have her picture taken, Mrs. Pollock was suddenly seized with dizziness and crumpled toward the edge of the cliff.

New Cannon Fires Missile 120 Miles.

Paris.—Delamare Mate, a French inventor, said to the French government the patent of a new long range gun which after thorough tests, has shown it has a range of from 100 to 120 miles.

COAL OPERATORS AND MINERS ARE INDICTED

Indianapolis.—The names of approximately 125 coal operators, miners or others connected with the coal industry in Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Western Pennsylvania, indicted recently by a special federal grand jury here for alleged violation of the Lever act and conspiracy sections of the federal criminal code, were made public here by federal officials. The miners include International President John Lewis, Secretary-Treasurer William Green and Chief Statistician Percy Tetlow.

The operators named include Thomas T. Brewster of St. Louis, chairman of the operators' scale committee; Phil H. Penna of Terre Haute, Ind., spokesman for the operators in conference in Washington just preceding the strike of the miners last fall, and F. S. Peabody of Chicago, one of the leaders among the Illinois operators.

Many Enter Ohio Primary Race, Columbus, O.—Entries in Ohio

Harding of Ohio, Major-General Leonard Wood; James H. Garfield, Ohio and Louis A. Baird of Washington, D. C. The democratic candidates are Governor J. M. Cox, former Governor J. E. Campbell and James G. Thompson, of Chicago.

Trail of Murderer—Lost in Mexico. Nogales, Ariz.—Sheriff R. H. Fraser, and the serious wounding of his brother, John A. Fraser, during a raid on Arivaco, Pima county, Arizona.

BENSON TOLD SIMS TO WATCH BRITISH

Washington—Rear Admiral William S. Benson, then chief of naval operations, was the official who told Rear Admiral Sims "not to let the British pull the wool over your eyes, we would not fight them as the Germans." Admiral Sims testified before the senate committee investigating the navy's conduct of the war.

Admiral Sims said the remark was made just after he had received his final instructions from Secretary Daniels preparatory to his departure for England on the eve of the entry of the United States into the war. He added, however, that it was not made in the course of formal instructions, but during a conversation in the office of Rear Admiral Palmer, chief of the bureau of navigation.

INTEREST IS $236,240,114

Annual Amount Accruing on Loans By U. S. to Europe.

Czar's Daughter Found in Boxcar. Washington—Grand Duchess Olga, daughter of the late Czar Nicholas of Russia, has been found by American Red Cross workers living in a box car near Novorossiisk, South Russia. It was announced at the headquarters of the Red Cross here. The grand duchess, according to the announcement, is one of the three surviving members of the house of Romanoff.

Washington—After a troubled eight months' sojourn in the senate, the treaty with Germany was sent back to President Wilson with a note appended saying that ratification had been refused.

Until some affirmative action is taken by congress or the president to end the war status legally, the technical position of the country remains, officials say, just what it was the day the armistice was signed.

Three courses are open to Mr. Wilson. He can return the treaty to the senate, in which case the republican leaders declare it will be pigeonholed indefinitely; he can do nothing, while he waits for the verdict of the people in the political campaign, or he can treat the treaty as a dead letter, so far as international diplomacy is concerned, and proceed to negotiate a separate peace with Germany, a step which he alone under the constitution could initiate.

War legislation continues in force and under the war department interpretation of the situation the president retains his war power as commander-in-chief to lead the American troops at whatever ports in Germany he thinks necessary to enforce the armistice terms.

On the decisive rollcall, the vote was 49 for ratification to 35 against, the opposition numbering in its ranks 20 democrats who were unwilling to see the treaty go through with the republican reservations objected to by the president and three democratic and 12 republican irreconcilables.

Twenty-one democrats quit the president's lead and voted for ratification, but the objection failed by seven votes of providing the two-thirds requisite to ratify.

POULTRY

POOR HATCHES IN INCUBATOR

Carelessness in Manipulation of Machine is Sure to Bring Disastrous Results.

Many causes for poor hatches of chicks in incubators can be traced to the operators not educating themselves on what is necessary in the way of fertile eggs, saving eggs for incubation and taking care of them. Eggs for incubation should be kept in a well ventilated room with medium temperature. All eggs should be turned at least once every 24 hours, and no eggs should be over ten days or two weeks old at the outside.

One should be careful to strictly follow the directions accompanying the incubator. The directions for one make of machine do not always do for that of another make, for the ventilation, regulation, etc., may be different.

The principal reason why young chicks die in the shell about the eighteenth day is a poorly ventilated room.

Other causes than poorly ventilated rooms are poorly ventilated incubators, and eggs are not properly fertilized. An egg poorly fertilized will start to grow and die for lack of vitality. Opening up the incubator during the latter part of the hatch, or about the time the chicks begin to pip, lets out the moisture and dries the chicken up in the shell, or, in other words, stops the pores of the shell, and causes a great many to die. Under no condition should the incubator be opened after the eighteenth day until the chicks are entirely hatched.

As a rule, beginners with incubators do not read the book of directions properly. Many a person who has seen an incubator, and probably run a hatch of some other make thinks he knows all about it, does not read the directions and makes a flat failure every time. Sometimes no consideration is given to the ventilation of the room in which the machine is placed. Possibly there may be decayed vegetables therein, or the air is stale.

There are few failures nowadays by poorly regulated incubators, except in the cheaper line of machines where the temperature will change 10, 12 and 15 degrees. One point I have noticed here at home by having a green hand set an incubator, says a writer in an exchange. He reads the directions, maybe thinks he has learned them by heart, sets his regulator as soon as the thermometer gets to 100, turns the thumb screw where he supposes is right, and places the eggs in the incubator.

Now, the thumb screw and regulator is a very tender affair, and one turn of the thumb screw will cause a change in the atmosphere inside the incubator of five to four degrees. It should be turned slightly, about one-fourth of the way round, so the temperature stands just at 100.

A great mistake is made by paying too much attention to an incubator. I never see to my machine more than twice a day, once in the morning and once in the evening. I see that the regulator is set properly, and everything running nicely before putting in the eggs, and then place the egg in it and do not touch the regulator. At first it will lower the temperature a little when the eggs are put in, but if the regulator is properly set, the temperature will rise to the proper degree.

TREAT POULTRY FOR VERMIN

Bath of Road Dust, Tobacco and Sulphur is Excellent—Dipping is Also Favored.

One of the best methods to keep poultry free from lice is to provide a "dust bath." This may be made of a box large enough to accommodate several fowls at a time and partly filled with road dust, tobacco dust and sulphur, according to the following proportion: Road dust, six parts; tobacco, one part; sulphur, two handfuls.

Dipping chickens in a two per cent solution of chlorox is also recommended for the control of lice.

Dayton, Ohio.—R. W. Schroeder, chief test pilot at McCook field, who fell more than five miles in two minutes after shattering the world's altitude record, miraculously escaping death, lies in the army post hospital near here, recovering from partial blindness, and determined to make another ascent into the heavens at the first opportunity.

Major Schroeder climbed to a height of 35,020 feet, then plunged downward more than five miles when he lost control of his machine after his oxygen supply was exhausted. While still 7000 feet above the ground the aviator righted the plane and sailed down to make a graceful landing on McCook field. When attendants rushed to the machine they found him sitting erect in the plane, blinded and unconscious. His eyeballs had been frozen, the temperature at the height to which he had ascended being 57 degrees below zero, Fahrenheit.

How Long Should A Good Inner Tube Last?

A good tube should last a couple of seasons at least.

Goodrich tubes are good for several seasons, because they are "Goodrich Quality."

They usually outwear several others and can be patched time and time again. The rubber is full of soap and vim and life.

It isn't abrasion, wear or injury that sends inner tubes to the junk heap—it's oxidation.

Among all the tubes on the market, I selected the Goodrich because in my opinion it is far and away the best. It takes oxidation longer to get a Goodrich than any other inner tube.

The difference in cost between Goodrich and any other kind is trifling—the difference in service is vitally important.

Mrs. Hall Taylor of Seattle has been a visitor on the Island this week and received a warm welcome from old friends and former neighbors. Their eldest son, Arvine has taken up aviation and for the past three months has been in the government aviation school in Waukegon, Ills.

L. C. Beall, jr. is satisfied with nothing short of the best in the poultry line. He has a cockerel for which he paid $250—doubtless the highest price ever paid for a bird in the United States for breeding purposes. Recently he paid $75 for a setting of eggs from the Tanager farm—these were from birds with a 300-egg record.

For shingles see W. V. Covey, Vashon. The quality and price is right. Phone 223.

Members of the M. E. Ladies' Aid and friends and neighbors of Mrs. Mary Woods gave her a pleasant farewell at the home of her daughter, Mrs. F. A. Weiss, on Saturday afternoon of last week. Mrs. Woods had received the sad news a few days previous that her son's wife had passed away at their home in North Dakota. This word from the stricken family was a great shock to the relatives here, and Mrs. Woods arranged at once to take the long journey that she might comfort the son and his six small motherless children. The company of friends enjoyed a social hour, with light refreshments and bade Mrs. Woods God speed on her errand of mercy, with the assurance that she would be welcomed should she return to again make her home on the Island. Mrs. Woods left for North Dakota on Wednesday.

THE PEOPLE'S FORUM

SAME OLD BUNK

Editor News-Record:

I was amused to read in your issue of last week, under the caption "Same Old Bunch," the contribution from a Kent paper signed "A Vashonite." The heading should have been, "Same Old Bunk," for we have been regaled with a pitiful wail from this same source for lo these many years, and it is a fact that some folks have listened so long to the mournful strains to the effect that the North Enders are intent on having the Portage-Des Moines ferry removed, that they really believe it. And "A Vashonite" has predicted that the North End ferry would be removed because of difficulty in making landings in stormy weather. The wish of course was father to the thought.

I shall not attempt to reply to the fling at our Island residents, the majority of whom deplore the tactics of one who goes out of his way to belittle his neighbors.

It is too bad that a community should be made the "goat" because two or three people have a personal grievance.

Anyone conversant with events on the Islands the past few years can count on the fingers of one hand (and still have fingers left to scratch his head) the trouble makers whose chief function seems to be to keep in the limelight. When improvements have been proposed, a hue and cry has been raised, "Real estate scheme of North Enders!" It is well known that "A Vashonite" has nothing at stake no matter what improvements are proposed. I am a property owner and taxpayer on the Island and my property is not for sale, but it would be on the market if I believed that "A Vashonite" was a representative of our population. The statement that "hundreds" of Island residents had signed a remonstrance against the proposed paving proposition was not within shouting distance of the truth—I doubt if 100 could be secured. Right here I wish to say that it is my humble opinion that a paved highway on Vashon would be the biggest asset that could come to the Islands, and lateral roads will not suffer as much as they will under the present order. The upkeep of a paved road is as nothing compared with gravel and dirt roads. The $50,000 bond road to which "we point with pride" (and view with alarm) is going the way of all such roads where proper drainage has been neglected, and its upkeep under increasing traffic means the yearly expenditure of an enormous amount of money—and it will still be unsatisfactory.

The threat was made by the objector to a paved road that if necessary the matter would be "carried through the courts." Ye gods! We have heard of such cases, but do not believe there are taxpayers on the Islands who would be willing to pay more to fight this needed improvement than their assessments for some would amount to in twenty years!

I am not a pioneer here, but I have studied conditions and am convinced that the Island territory should be regarded as suburban property. Better transportation is the battle cry, and it is bound to come; likewise an increase in population of at least ten thousand in the next five years. As a residence section Vashon-Murry is the "Gem of Puget Sound."

While on the subject, I want to call attention to the methods in vogue here in building or "fixing" lateral roads—getting away with the taxpayers' money. One instance about which I have recently learned: It was decided that the hill near Ellsport on a road little used, needed attention (which was not the case, as it averaged as good as any other lateral road on the Islands). However men and teams were put to work and they worked on that hill until the sum of six hundred dollars or thereabouts had been squandered. Squandered is the word, for it is as difficult to climb that hill today as it was before it was plowed and scraped. I'll say the money could have been used to better advantage on at least a half dozen other points—a road from Thicketon, for instance. I could continue the recital, but taxpayers know (or should know) how tax money is expended, and they should insist on a square deal.

PATRIOTISM

During the war a newspaper writer with a real understanding of patriotism wrote an article for the American press about the French women. It was said "that they are the most patriotic of all the people found abroad. That it is such a sacred thing with them they never mention it—as a good woman never mentions her good name."

Tested by such a conception, it is illuminating to recall the senatorial campaign in Michigan, where "patriotism" was the slogan of Mr. Newberry. Two weeks ago he was convicted of conspiracy to violate the laws governing the election which followed that campaign, and given the maximum sentence—two years in the penitentiary and a fine of $10,000. Similar illustrations in principle could be marshalled without number. In one way and another we are seeing it and hearing it all the time. Either some person or paper is constantly forcing upon the attention of the public an assurance of his or its patriotism. Coupled with it uniformly is the charge that somebody else or some other paper or organization is disloyal.

Now I want to believe that all of us are patriotic, just as I want to believe that all women are good, and all men honorable. My work for over thirty years has had more or less to do with credits and collections. Whenever a man seeking credit mentions his honesty to me, I mark him down. If he really is honest, he never refers to it. I have had considerable to do with women, and never doubt the good character of one of them unless she boasts of her good standing, turns a cold shoulder to someone when there has been no personal affront, or makes a display of her body. Then I ratsher where she belongs regardless of her social position. All my mature life has been spent in sympathetic relation with those who have been striving for a better day. Nearly all of the things I have been most interested in have been written into law and settled. Every step of the way has been contested by bigotry, intolerance, greed and persecution, masked as "patriotism" and "personal rights." As a result of that experience I want to say this: That whenever I hear or read any of this patriotic stuff, I think of the French women and am glad they have so beautifully exemplified the real thing.

Barred Plymouth Rocks are good general purpose fowls and will lay well if bred for eggs and properly fed and cared for. White Leghorns are excellent where eggs are all that is wanted.

The China goose is a variety that might well be called the Leghorn of the goose family. They are small in size, of a hardy nature, easy to raise and mature quickly.

Ford

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

The Ford car can well be called the "people's car," because there are more than 3,000,000 of them in daily operation. That is about four to one of the nearest follower in the motor car industry. This would not be so if the Ford car had not for sixteen years proven its superiority in service, in durability, and in the low cost for operation and maintenance; this would not be so if the Ford car was not so easy to understand, so simple in construction that anybody and everybody can safely drive it.
